

About the Southern Wisconsin Butterfly Association

The Southern Wisconsin Butterfly Association is made up of butterfly enthusiasts who enjoy observing butterflies and their behavior during field trips, attending lectures and classes, and working to conserve butterflies and their habitats.

The Southern Wisconsin Butterfly Association is a chapter of the not-for-profit North American Butterfly Association (NABA). NABA is the largest group of people in North America interested in butterflies.

To join the Southern Wisconsin Butterfly Association, simply join NABA. A membership form is included within this brochure. If you live in our NABA-designated zipcode area—places in south central Wisconsin with zipcodes beginning with the prefixes 535, 537, or 539—you are automatically part of our group when you join NABA. If you would like to join our chapter, but live in another zipcode area in Wisconsin, simply check the appropriate box on the membership form. We hope you will join the Southern Wisconsin Butterfly Association!

In the lane as I came along just now I noticed one spot, ten feet square or so, where more than a hundred had collected, holding a revel, a gyration-dance, or butterfly good-time, winding and circling, down and across, but always keeping within the limits.... Butterflies and butterflies continue to flit to and fro, all sorts, white, yellow, brown, purple—now and then some gorgeous fellow flashing by on the wing like artists' palettes dabb'd with every color.
